

Overhanging solitary waves in the Water Wave Problem

Manuel del Pino

Department of Mathematical Sciences, University of Bath, United Kingdom

`mdp59@bath.ac.uk`

In the classical Water Wave Problem, we construct new overhanging solitary waves by a procedure resembling desingularization of the gluing of constant mean curvature surfaces by tiny catenoid necks. The solutions here predicted have long been numerically detected. This is joint work with Juan Davila, Monica Musso, and Miles Wheeler.